

FAMILY SUPPORT WORKER CERTIFICATE

In partnership with Western Cree Tribal Council

Gain the skills you need to be employed as a Family Support Worker!

Northwestern Polytechnic's Family Support Worker Certificate provides learners with valuable skills, knowledge, and understanding to support Indigenous children and families. This program will give learners a greater understanding of issues relevant to family reunification, mental health, well-being, and Indigenous parenting.

Program Includes:

- Traditional Parenting
- Trauma, Addiction, and Mental Health Awareness
- Food Safety
- Intermediate First Aid
- Psychological First Aid
- The Virtues Project
- Conflict Resolution
- Communication Strategies
- Getting You Job Search Started
- Creating a Career Portfolio
- Mastering the Job Interview

Next offering: (Grande Prairie, AB)

- April 29-May 16, 2024, deadline to apply is April 25, 2024!

Eligibility

Participants must be:

- 18 years of age and older
- Member of Sturgeon Lake Cree Nation, Horse Lake First Nation and Duncan's First Nation as a Pre-Employment Supports client residing on-reserve.
- For more information, please contact Beth @ 780-255-6777 or pre-employment@westerncree.ca

Potential Careers

- Several career opportunities for learners seeking non-regulated employment in family reunification homes, women's shelters, and group homes.

Certification

Upon completions of the program participants will receive:

- NWP Certificate of Completion
- Intermediate First Aid Certificate
- Psychological First Aid Certificate
- Food Safety Certificate

NORTHWESTERN
POLYTECHNIC
CONTINUING EDUCATION